6. The provision of personal data is voluntary, but failure to do so will make it impossible to enter into the Agreement and participate in the event. Personal data provided in the application for participation/online registration will be processed for the purpose and to the extent related to the organization of the event. The basis for the processing of personal data is Article 6 (1) (b) of the GDPR – the performance of an agreement (acceptance of the Regulations and application for participation in the event as well as acceptance by the Organizer of the application and participation fee are equivalent to the conclusion of the agreement). The Controller may also process the personal data of Participants for the purpose of establishment, defense or exercise of claims arising in connection with the Trade Fair as well as for the promotion of the Trade Fair, which constitutes its legitimate interest (Article 6 (1) (f) of the GDPR). The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.
9. The personal data of the Participant, to the extent referred to in paragraph 6 above, shall be processed for a period of 6 years from the end of the calendar year in which the Agreement was concluded (the Trade Fair was held), unless a longer period of processing is necessary, e.g. due to archiving obligations, seeking claims, etc.

Participants, within the boundaries of the law, also have the right to object to the processing of their personal data in case the Organizer processes it for the purpose of its legitimate interest. The rights referred to above may be exercised through written requests sent to the address of the relevant controller.
12. Participants also have the right to file a complaint with the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection (UODO) about the processing of their data by the Organizer.
13. The scanning of the Participant's ID barcode is tantamount to the Participant's statement of intent (the Participant's consent) regarding the transfer of their personal data provided in the form referred to in § 2 (4) (a)-(b) of the Regulations to the Exhibitor in question. The Exhibitor, to whom the Participant has provided their personal data within the framework of the "scan4lead" service, becomes an independent controller of the Participant's personal data and will process it in accordance with applicable regulations, including the GDPR. The Participant has the right to withdraw consent at any moment, with the stipulation that the said withdrawal shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal. The Participant must inform the Exhibitor (the controller of the acquired data) about the intent to withdraw consent. The use of the "scan4lead" service is fully voluntary and free of charge, and requires the Participant to collect - before entering the Fairgrounds - an ID badge. Badges are issued on the basis of Tickets and are not returnable to the Organizer.
